Financial statements 1 January – 31 December

Notes

1 Accounting policies

Gains from fair value adjustments of investment property

Fair value adjustment of investment properties comprises the year's changes in the fair value of investment property.

Financial income and expenses

Financial income and expenses comprise interest income and expense, gains and losses on payables and transactions denominated in foreign currencies, amortisation of financial assets and liabilities.

Tax on profit for the year

Tax for the year comprises current corporation tax for the year and changes in deferred tax, including changes in tax rates. The tax expense relating to the profit/loss for the year is recognised in the income statement, and the tax expense relating to amounts directly recognised in equity is recognised directly in equity.

Balance sheet

Investment property

On initial recognition, investment property is measured at cost. Investment property is subsequently measured at fair value, and the value adjustment for the year is recognized in the income statement under the item "Fair value adjustment of investment property". The fair value is based on the expected future cash flows for the investment property.

The fair value is calculated using the capitalisation model as the calculated capital value of the expected cash flows from the individual properties.

The determination of the expected cash flows is based on the budgeted cash flows of the individual property for the coming years, including rental and price increases, as well as a calculated term value that expresses the value of the normalised cash flows that the property is expected to generate after the budget period. The cash flows thus calculated are discounted at present value using a discount factor which is judged to reflect the market's current rate of return for corresponding properties including expected inflation.

Receivables

Receivables are measured at amortised cost.

Write-down is made for bad debt losses where there is an objective indication that a receivable has been impaired. If there is an objective indication that an individual receivable has been impaired, write-down is made on an individual basis.

Write-downs are calculated as the difference between the carrying amount of receivables and the present value of forecast cash flows, including the realisable value of any collateral received. The effective interest rate for the individual receivable or portfolio is used as discount rate.

Financial statements 1 January – 31 December

Notes

1 Accounting policies

Prepayments

Prepayments comprise prepayment of costs incurred relating to subsequent financial years.

Cash at bank and in hand

Cash at bank and in hand comprise cash and bank deposits.

Equity

Dividends

The expected dividend payment for the year is disclosed as a separate item under equity.

Corporation tax and deferred tax

Current tax payable and receivable is recognised in the balance sheet as tax computed on the taxable income for the year, adjusted for tax on the taxable income of prior years and for tax paid on account.

Deferred tax is measured using the balance sheet liability method on all temporary differences between the carrying amount and the tax value of assets and liabilities measured on the planned use of the asset or settlement of the liability, respectively. However, deferred tax is not recognised on temporary differences relating to office buildings non-deductible for tax purposes and other items where temporary differences arise at the date of acquisition without affecting either profit/loss or taxable income.

Deferred tax assets, including the tax value of tax loss carryforwards, are recognised at the expected value of their utilisation within the foreseeable future; either as a set-off against tax on future income or as a set-off against deferred tax liabilities in the same legal tax entity. Any deferred net assets are measured at net realisable value.

Deferred tax is measured in accordance with the tax rules and at the tax rates applicable at the balance sheet date when the deferred tax is expected to crystallise as current tax. Changes in deferred tax as a result of changes in tax rates are recognised in the income statement or equity, respectively.

Liabilities other than provisions

Financial liabilities are recognised at cost at the date of borrowing, corresponding to the proceeds received less transaction costs paid. In subsequent periods, the financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Accordingly, the difference between cost and the nominal value is recognised in the income statement over the term of the loan together with interest expenses.

Other liabilities are measured at amortised cost.

Valuation method and techniques:

The fair value of investment properties is determined using the traditional investment/income capitalisation method of valuation. The investment method of valuation involves the capitalisation of the net income stream from the property at a net yield. All calculations have been performed by an external independent valuer.

In establishing the gross income stream the valuer has reflected current rents payable to lease expiry (or break if activated) at which point they have assumed that each unit will be re-let at their opinion of market rent. Where units are vacant a void period has been assumed prior to assuming that the unit will be let at a market rent opinionated by the valuer.

In order to arrive at a net income stream certain items of non-recoverable expenditure are deducted from the gross rental income, such as non-recoverable management fees, a maintenance and repair sinking fund, and any non-recoverable service charges.

The net yield applied to capitalise the income stream is derived from analysis of market evidence of investment transactions. Purchaser's costs are deducted from the resultant capital value to arrive at a net market value. Any items of capital expenditure are also deducted.

Future indexation of rents has been allowed for implicitly in the valuation.

The Equivalent Yield is 6.05%. A change of +/- 0.25 percentage points in the Equivalent Yield mean approx. - 14,509 / + 15,760 t. kr. Changed market value with a current net rent of kr. 22.121.133.

Properties:

- The Company's investment properties consist of a light industrial property located in Roskilde, Denmark

- All vacant units comprise of 0 sqm out of a total of 43,114 sqm, which is 0% of vacancy

Pursuant to current level of vacancy and relatively short WAULTS in Denmark, there is uncertainty of when particular units will be let and at what level of income.
